

45. Green City

An enthusiastic group of fine people undertook to resurrect the glory of a once rich mining community of Green City starting in the late 1970s.

And so, it was about in 1988 that a group of our friends chose the historic Green City as our summer vacation spot and choice for Trout fishing and Huckleberry picking.

A) Green City Roads and Facilities as of the August 1988 and 1989 Green City Days

Lawrence Popoff and son David on Highway 4001 to Green City

Protests would suddenly appear and the highway blockage with animate "Locos"

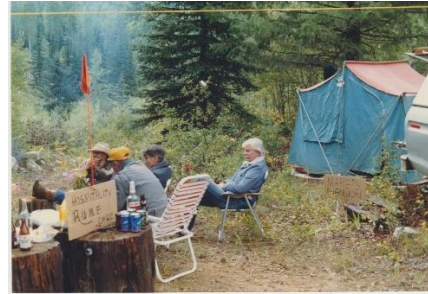

Bribery and road tolls required careful consideration to allow passage

Of course, the reasons why everyone was anxious to get there ASAP. As this story unfolds, the events will all be pictorially and fully confirmed.

Everyone is tired from the journey and were getting acquainted.

Tents have been erected and soon the "Hospitality Rume" opened.

An essential building, prefabricated in Surrey was constructed. Erections were easy those days.

Inspected and commissioned by incumbent Mayor and certified good to go!

The plumbers were able to install a shower in the woods and as you can see it takes two ladies to operate the unit.

It was a popular addition to Green City.

"As a result of a Columbia Basin Trust Grant and supported by the Member of Parliament, Bob Brisco." A bit of Bull Shit.

B) Preparations for the "Long Haul"

"So, we got the stove set up in case it gets cold. We will just set a tent around it now".

Grubs, worms, snails, whatever it takes to go fishing. Huckleberries, hmmm!

So, the Lover built the "Nest" and dug out all the rocks, roots and whatever was necessary and then spread leaves to prepare the soft floor.

He laid out the red carpet and was absolutely sure that his destined mate would be impressed.

Destiny was not to be.

My eyes are bleeding as it is, so please turn the lights out

There I was minding my own business and then this Semi.....!!!!!!!!!!!!

C) Let the games begin! Special Hide and Seek with two teams following a map created by the opposing team with all the prompts and clues. Very Interesting.....!!!!!!

Team #1 reading the instructions and interpreting the map.

Team #2 has only one objective: "we are going to beat Team #1"

Team #1 unsure if they may have passed an important sign.

Team # 2 found a sign

There is nothing in there. We read the map wrong!

We found the stuff right there leaning against the rock.

I will never tell my kids that I would be caught doing this!

The rest of our team is still searching but we found it!

It is Saturday Let's go to town and have a good time!

D) Preparations to A Night on the Town

"Crooked" Line Dancing. Uh oh, where are the boys?

Do we do the Twist to this one, Sweetie?

Popular Country & Western Band from Lower Green City

E) The Infamous "Bardok"

Yes, there must be a Doorman at every exclusive "Club". Sexual harassment?

Professional Mixologists, recently trained in San Francisco

Like all notorious establishments, business is good, and the Doorman surveys the patrons carefully to ensure compliance with regulations.

F) Local Politics

Campaign Committee in support of their Majority Candidate!

"Junta" undermining incumbent Mayor with "Fake" quotations from Plato.

And so, it was to pass, that an honest Mayor was ousted by an illegal Junta. Jim Latkin's dog Roxie won by one vote. Green City relegated to the "dogs" and now does not even have a voice at the UN nor mention in Trumps "tweets".

The greatest fecundity in successful politics with superfluous reference material that impresses only the uninformed.

Threatening henchmen "armed" and dangerous

G) The misinformed populace of Green City rejoiced as they did in Sodom and Gomorrah

The wayward populace rejoiced in a Pagan ritual

The Schemers tied "Plato's" hands behind his back as they rewarded him for being part of the coup to have Roxie become Mayor so the Junta could squander the Green City Treasury.

Yes. There they reveled and celebrated in sin.

The days of "All for One and One for All" and "Goodwill to all Mankind" was politically erased in Green City forever more.

Edited by EWV November 09, 2021